BOSTON – Paced by three players with 20 or more points, the Boston University men's basketball team posted a thrilling 91-89 overtime victory against Morehead State in the quarterfinal round of the College Basketball Invitational on Monday evening at Case Gym.

BU (21-13) never trailed after taking a 38-37 lead into the break, pushing its one-point halftime lead to as much as 11 at 68-57. The Eagles, however, clawed their way back and tied the game with 28 seconds left in regulation on a pair of free throws.

After coming up short on three chances at a game-winner in the final 10 seconds of regulation, BU scored the first five points of overtime and Morehead was never able to draw even the rest of the way.

After missing their first nine shots of the game, the Terriers settled down and embarked on a 24-9 run over a seven-minute span to take a 33-29 advantage before settling for the 38-37 halftime lead.

O'Brien and Stallworth each led their respective teams with 12 points at the half. Stallworth connected on all four of his first-half 3-point attempts.

The win marked BU's largest comeback victory of this season, recovering from the 11-point first-half deficit after coming back from 10 points down on two occasions earlier in the year.
