

Cougars Shut Down Toledo In 2K Sports Classic, 64-51

box score

TOLEDO, Ohio – The College of Charleston men's basketball team shut down Toledo with its press, 64-51, to go 2-1 in the subregional round of the 2K Sports Classic benefiting Coaches vs. Cancer held Sunday afternoon at Savage Arena.

The Cougars (4-2) scored 21 of their points off of 13 turnovers by the Rockets (0-5) including 14 off of nine miscues in the first half where CofC shot a scorching 50.0 percent from the floor. Coming into the contest, the Cougars were ranked No. 24 nationally in field-goal percentage (.511) and held Toledo to an opponent season-low 40 percent shooting.

Open looks created several opportunities for the Cougars' to show off their range as preseason Southern Conference Player of the Year Andrew Goudelock (Stone Mountain, Ga.) drained three of the team's eight three-pointers in the ballgame. He was named to the all-tournament team with a game-high 17 points combined with a 23-point outing against Rhode Island and 26-point outburst versus Illinois-Chicago.

With a 36-22 halftime lead, the CofC defense continued to keep the Rockets at bay holding them without a basket for a five-minute stretch until Delino Dar sank the second of two makes from the charity stripe at 10:52.

Sophomore Andrew Lawrence (London, England) gave CofC its largest lead with a three-pointer at the 6:19 minute mark of the second half, 62-36, as Toledo tried to make a comeback, but was only able to come within 13 in the final minutes of regulation.

Senior Jeremy Simmons (Lithonia, Ga.) and senior Donovan Monroe (Waxhaw, N.C.) joined Goudelock in double figures with 14 and 10 respectively, while UT was paced by 12 from Malcolm Griffin.

The Cougars will enjoy a bye week in preparation for an anticipated rematch at No. 8-ranked North Carolina on Sunday, Nov. 28 in Chapel Hill, N.C. Tipoff is set for 5:30 p.m. (ET) and the game will be televised nationally on Fox Sports Net.

